

Sandringham Sixth Form Careers Bulletin

May 2020 (Ed. 13)

This bulletin is aimed at highlighting how you can still gain crucial work experience and expand your knowledge all from the comfort of your own home.

We understand that you may feel you are being presented with a lot of information and you don't know where to start so we suggest you set aside an hour this week to have a look and highlight just one or two that you would like to do. A lot of the webinars are no more than an hour and would look great to include on your CV, your personal statement, or to talk about in an interview.

(Please note, there is a fee payable for the first two items, but the rest of the activities are free).
