Letter No: 22/2022

3rd October 2022

Dear Parents, Carers and Students,

Dr Phil Zimbardo on Wednesday 12th October 2022 from 4pm-6.30pm online

We have found an excellent online conference for you to attend that will be delivered by Dr Philip Zimbardo, the psychologist behind the 1971 Stanford Prison Experiment. He will talk about his work and the session will then cover the subsequent collective social experiment, the Heroic Imagination Project.

Dr Philip Zimbardo is a Professor Emeritus at Stanford University. He has been described as 'a legendary teacher, someone with a gift of enthralling his audience and packing a powerful message'. He will share his views on the nature of evil, his personal encounters with evil, then revisit the Milgram obedience studies, and also explore his Stanford Prison Experiment. Then he will share the pioneering work he conducted on Shyness and its treatment, as well as the psychology of Time Perspective. Finally, he will extend Matt Langdon's hero presentation with an introduction of women as heroes.

Matt Langdon is the President of the Heroic Imagination Project and founder of the Hero Round Table. He wrote The Hero Handbook, a guide for young heroes-in-training, published through the American Psychology Association. Matt will provide an introduction to the Heroic Imagination Project, its history, its philosophy, and its programmes.

The online session's itinerary is:

Artsmark
Platinum Award
Awarded by Arts
Council England

The session will improve your knowledge and understanding of conformity to social roles which is a topic named on the specification in Paper 1 and it will also be beneficial to any student considering studying psychology at university to show that you have fully immersed yourself into the subject.

You will be expected to log in promptly from home at 4.00pm. The session will last for 2.5 hours.

The conference will cost £10. Please make your payment via ParentPay by 7th October 2022

If a student has applied for a 16-19 bursary, they will not be expected to pay for this session.

Yours sincerely,

Hannah Coy
Teacher of Psychology
