Dear Families,

Fine Art and Photography A Level Trip

On Friday 8th December, we have organised a trip to The Tate Modern to see two exhibitions. A world In Common, contemporary African photography and Capturing The Moment, a journey through painting and photography.

There will hopefully also be time to visit the free art on display in the rest of the gallery. This will be a great opportunity to see art first hand with their teachers to guide them through ways in which the art work and ideas can inform their own personal investigations for their coursework.

Students will need to meet their teachers at St Albans Thameslink station at 9am and we will travel to Blackfriars together as a group returning back to the station for 3pm. Students may then make their own way home.

On the day students will need to bring a packed lunch and money for the rail fare and any refreshments or items they wish to purchase in the shop.

The cost of the exhibitions is at a student rate of £10 for both. Please pay this via Parent Pay before 13th November.

Yours sincerely

Sarah Gidden
Teacher of Art and Photography
